Male Laziness Prompts Soph Assembly Theme

"Midnight Mood" will be the theme of the student assembly presented Tuesday by the Sophomore Loan Fund committee.

The comedy show centers around a marriage broker who is going out of business because lazy men won't take the initiative in asking girls to marry them.

Script was written by Connie Lundell, Vernal, Ada Ruth

Jones, Chandler, Ariz. is chairman and director of the show.

Cast includes Steve Levaell, Los Angeles, Calif.; Christine Ellsworth, Pasadena, Calif.; Byron Todd, Los Angeles; Margaret Holman, Pocatello, Ida.; Lilli Alder, Weiser, Ida.; Leo Weidner, Portland, Ore.; Bob Brady, Ithaca, N. Y.; Dick Reimers, Arcadia, Calif.; and Mark Poulson.

Homecoming House Decoration Entry Due Date Slated Oct. 30

Homecoming house and dormitory decoration entries must be submitted by Oct. 30 for consideration in judging.

Displays will be judged Nov. 2 for originality, workmanship, adherence to theme, beauty and interest according to Boyd Cook, house and dormitory decorations chairman.

Information sheets and entry blanks may be obtained in the student co-ordinators office in the Student Service Center.

All types of residences and dorms on or off campus are eligible for trophies to be given at the Fieldhouse Frolics Nov. 2. All trophies are permanent except the sweepstakes trophy.

Three awards will be given for on-campus units and one will be given for off-campus displays.

The Alumni House Decorations Traveling Sweepstakes Trophy will be awarded to the best all-around display.

Last year's and this year's trophies will be displayed in the Eyring Science Center lobby where information about the contest may be obtained.

According to "Remember When . . .", the homecoming theme, will help entrants create humor, nostalgia, beauty and originality with their workmanship, which will be appreciated by guests, the school and the community.

Spanish Testimony Meet Planned Sunday at BYU

A special testimony meeting in Spanish is scheduled for Sunday at 3 p. m. in the Smith Building Banquet Hall.

Ex-missionaries of Spanish speaking countries, students taking Spanish and natives of Spanish-speaking countries are especially requested to attend. Anyone else interested is also welcome.

Bishop Ernst J. Wilkins will direct the meeting.

Gala Greeting Awaits Knowland

CALIFORNIA'S Senator, William F. Knowland will be the object of a welcome in a "grand manner" when he arrives at Brigham Young University Thursday.

The Republican statesman will be greeted at the Provo airport by BYU's California Club Thursday morning. From the airport a car parade will bring the senator through Provo to the Smith Fieldhouse where he will address the studentbody.

According to Howard Hill, California Club President from San Mateo, a marching band, composed of California students will greet Senator Knowland at the fieldhouse. The building will also be decorated with posters and state flags.

California students will sit in a body in the same section of the fieldhouse they occupied during the welcome assembly, said Hill.

KNOWLAND is the senior senator from California who backed Vice-President Nixon for his nomination in 1952. He is expected to campaign at BYU for Republican candidates entered in the November national election.

Mrs. Knowland and their 18-year-old daughter will accompany the senator on this trip. They are flying to Provo from Grand Island, Neb., and will go from here to their only other Utah stop at Ogden.

Message to Senate . . .

Policy Review Seen In Leader's Address

Queens, major policies, and student organizations will be reviewed before the Brigham Young University Student Senate Wednesday afternoon.

Studentbody President Monroe McKay announced that he will deliver his State of the Union address to the student legislative body at 4:10 p. m.

Wednesday in 167 McKay Bldg.

McKay said he will announce the executive council's major policies for the year. He also asked that all student organizations send a representative as organizations problems will be discussed.

It is believed that McKay will request a review of queen policy at BYU. The request will probably carry a recommendation that the number of queen elections be reduced.

The entire studentbody is invited and encouraged to attend the special Senate meeting.

Alumni Donate $21 Thousand

The Brigham Young University Fund ended its charter year with a total of $21,773.75 donated by BYU alumni.

The fund was instigated for the purpose of improving BYU through the voluntary financial aid of alumni and friends.

In response to the appeal there were 2,642 contributors. Money came from 43 states, Alaska, Hawaii, The Canal Zone and 13 foreign countries.

The University will benefit with money for additional facilities, equipment, scholarships and library books, according to alumni association officials.

President Said 'Good', Off Oxygen, Sitting Up

Brigham Young University President Ernest L. Wilkinson was reported in "good" condition Monday by doctors at Salt Lake City's Latter-day Saints Hospital.

It was also reported that Pres. Wilkinson was allowed to sit up in bed Monday for the first time since he was hospitalized Oct. 5.

Use of an oxygen tent for the ailing university president was discontinued Monday.

Youtheatre Troupe Presents Drama 'Snow Treasure'

"SNOW TREASURE," a play in three acts adapted from the Mary McSwigans story will be presented in College Hall Wednesday to Friday. Two performances will be held each day, a matinee at 2 p. m. and a night show at 7 p. m. No admission will be charged. This is the first play to be offered this year under a new program called Youtheatre.

YOUTHEATRE is an offering of the Department of Speech and Dramatic Art, with the cooperation of the Brigham Young University Laboratory School.

In charge of the program will be Dr. Albert O. Mitchell, formerly director of the Young People's Theatre at the University of Utah. Associated with Dr. Mitchell will be Max Go-lightly, who recently returned from teaching in California.

In offering such a program to the schools, BYU feels it should develop into a joint project guided by school officials to meet the needs of secondary as well as elementary students. Participants in the different plays by the Youtheatre include BYU, BY High and elementary students.

THE DOCTOR KNOWS BEST—"Snow Treasure," a three act play presented by the newly formed Youtheatre stars BYU, BY High and Grammar students.

WHO PULLS THE STRINGS—Roy Baumgart talks over the world situation with his business partner, a ventriloquist's dummy named Lucky. Rin Tin Can is the other prop for the act put on by Baumgart.

Repair of Dummy Gives Start To Fun and Unusual Hobby

A BRIGHAM YOUNG University student who bothered to repair a broken ventriloquist dummy thrown in a trash can, is now on his way to an unusual hobby and possibly a career.

Roy Baumgart, the student, put the doll back together, named his find Lucky and decided to learn ventriloquism.

Since then, seven years ago, he has made appearances on television in Salt Lake City, toured the eastern part of the United States and Utah and Idaho.

Originally from New York City, Roy came to BYU a year ago, and is now starting his sophomore year.

IN ADDITION to Lucky, which now has been replaced with a professional-made model, Roy uses a balsa wood and paper mache dog, Rin Tin Can, which he carved by hand.

"Lucky is my smart-alecky side kick. The dog doesn't do much right now except sing one song with Lucky," Roy said.

Before he had Rin Tin Can, about two years ago, Roy and Lucky decided to take ventriloquism lessons, but according to Lucky they both knew so much it was a waste of time.

"I have read a few books on the subject when I started, and they covered what I wanted to know," Roy broke in. "Lucky just came by his intelligence ten to change pitches. The audience got a big laugh out of it," naturally.

DOES ROY ever get mixed up and speak in his own voice when he should be listening to Lucky?

"Only once," Roy replied. "That was in Springville when BYU's Student Program Bureau sent me along with one of their programs. Lucky was supposed to be talking to me, and there I was, listening to my own voice, instead of Lucky's. I had forgotten."

Roy is majoring in Speech and Radio and Television Production. He doesn't expect to use ventriloquism after he graduates, but he did indicate that if the opportunity shows itself, he would like to continue the hobby and make a profession out of it.

Meeting every Monday from 7-8 p. m. in College Hall, it not only offers entertainment and enjoyment for those students who like to watch performances, but it also gives an opportunity to participate.

One-act plays will be directed by Dr. Preston Gledhill's directing class. Mask Club participants who act in these plays gain valuable experience in developing their talent in this particular field.

Aside from the fun of taking part in the one-act performances, Dr. Gledhill commented that it gives students a chance to become well-known dramatically and gives experience so that one may try out for major productions.

The first performance is scheduled Monday. Plays will run from that date to the end of the quarter, and an average of two plays per week will be given.

Some of the future one-act plays will be "Riders to the Sea," "The Valiant," "The Rope," "Modesty," "Will O' the Wisp," and "Saturday Night at the Halfway House."

The different plays are cast after Mask Club meeting each week.

Officers for Mask Club are Carl Markworth, National City, Calif., president; Dorothy Whitaker, Circleville, vice president; Martha Adams, Montpelier, Ida., secretary.

Cougar Soccer Team Defeated By Alemania 6-3 In Saturday Game

The Brigham Young International Soccer Club started its season on the wrong foot as Alemania, of the Utah Soccer Association, defeated the Brighams 6-3 at Provo Saturday afternoon.

Alemania, a German entry in the Salt Lake City league, jumped off to a 3-0 halftime lead and scored three more goals in the second half to put the game on ice.

BYISC outplayed the German squad offensively in the second half, as they scored three goals. However, the Brighams defense wasn't up to par, as Alemania kickers had little trouble in front of the BYISC's goal.

HEINZ HORSTMEIER, Peter Lysenko and Pete Peterson scored the three Cougar goals.

The Brigham Young eleven started fast in the second half as Horstmeier kicked BYU's first goal within five minutes of play.

Lysenko, who played goal keeper the first half, shifted to center halfback in the second half and scored the BYISC's second goal. A sensational pass by Horstmeier set up Lysenko's goal.

With 15 minutes left in the game, Peterson added the final Cougar tally.

Brigham Young's offensive positions were weak in first half play, and the BYISC had to revise its line-up first half play, and in the second half to get offensive power. The main moves of the re-shuffle was moving Lysenko and Horstmeier into offensive positions.

GLENN CHEE-A-KWAI was the outstanding Cougar on defense, playing at left inside in the first half, and at left fullback in the second half.

Cowboys Move To Top League Slot Over Utah

by Jerry Cunningham

MOST OBSERVERS figure the Skyline circuit's game of the year was played Saturday in Laramie, Wyo. when Jim Crawford & Co. spanked Utah 30-20.

The game was rated a "toss-up" by most football "prophets" with the losers being "tossed out" of contention almost by acclamation.

So if Utah is to get a crack at the crown somebody will have to stop Wyoming. Only Utah State, Montana and Brigham Young University are left.

BUT THE high-flying Pokes are on the road for the remainder of their conference games and Saturday's game results indicate that "there's power in Logan."

Utah State, with the reserves taking over in the second half, clobbered Colorado A & M 46-7 Saturday. And, they did it with Jack Hill, the Aggie All-American candidate, doing little more than scampering for a 42-yard touchdown and kicking 3 of 4 extra-point attempts.

BUT WYOMING may have the Skyline's greatest back in Jim Crawford. Many observers are already comparing him with such all-time Wyoming greats as Eddie Talboom, Harry Geldein and Chuck Spaulding. In Saturday's contest Crawford racked up 154 yards single-handed, or well over half of the Pokes' total rushing yardage.

OTHER GAMES around the league found New Mexico bowing to Arizona 12-26, Denver romping over Colorado College by three touchdowns and Montana nipping BYU 21-14.

Next week finds Wyoming and Utah stepping out of league play to entertain Kansas State and Idaho respectively. BYU goes to Utah State, New Mexico is at Denver and Colorado's Aggies host Montana.

AN UNHERALDED Air Force Academy, while not in the Skyline Conference, has been making a shambles of Rocky Mountain competition. The Academy boasts a gargantuan 40-point bulge over their opponents. They host BYU Nov. 24 in Denver which will be the Cougar's football finale.

That's Rich

by Rich Hall

"SO NOW WHAT"

This seems to be the primary question in the minds of Brigham Young University's football fans this week. The Cougar defeat at the hands of Montana leaves many feeling that the road ahead is indeed a dark, bleak one.

The Silvertips were supposed to be BYU's one, remaining chance to break into the win column. Now a few pessimistic have decided that the Cat's remaining games will be nothing but lopsided slaughters with the poor BYU squad being plasters over the field.

TO THOSE downhearted ones we say "taint so."

Last year about this time the BYU squad decided they nothing left to play for and so stopped fighting. They began to dead for every team in the league, and football on this campus hit an all-time low. Football games turned into paper glider thing band concerts, with few in the stands (those who show up for games) really concerned with what was going on on the playing field.

The team can't be blamed for entirely quitting, because pretty hard to play football when the studentbody refuses to watch you. The blame for last year's mess lies in part on the shoulders of everyone on campus during the football season.

THEN COACH Harold Kopp came into the picture. Unfortunately a few people began shouting from the rooftops that the Cougars were going to rack up every team in the league millennium had been reached as far as football was concerned.

Then BYU dropped a few ball games. Members of the "F Days Are Here Again" Club took one look at the record and hid out the crying towel. Remarks like "same old BYU football" began to be heard. But those morbid souls are very wrong.

COACH KOPP has improved the football at this school. With the remainder of last year's squad, plus a few freshmen and transfers he put together a team that had spirit and will to win, even if they were a little short on the talent scale.

Both the team and the coaching staff realized that the climb of the Skyline title coming to BYU was an extremely small one they set out to do first things first, the terrific task of proving the opinion most people had gained of Cougar football.

EASH WEEK Coach Kopp has fielded a team that has fought with all it could muster right up to the final gun. They have played to win, and refused to act beaten until the game over.

As we have said before that sort of playing takes a special brand of guts. To knock heads all week long in practice the beat on the weekends can get pretty tedious, after awhile.

And the team is improving. Each week they look a little better. Next year the picture will continue to improve as this year's man club moves up to the varsity, and the holdovers from last year's varsity club will be better through the game experience they have gained this year.

IN THE YEARS to come more and more teams will be coming to Provo planning on kicking the Cats all over the place will end up going home with stubbed toes and broken feet. It just the beginning, the work on the foundation of what will turn into a football dynasty at BYU.

The Cougars will be licking their wounds this week waiting to meet a surprisingly hot Utah State club. They will have to hard to come up with something to stop Hill, Whattcoat Company. They will be able to use a little encouragement.

LOGAN ISN'T a million miles away, and this year's ball has earned our support in a very hard way. Tickets are available at the ticket office right now. There is even an organization in town offering a cut-rate bus fare to the game.

The Cougars will be up there playing the best ball they fighting to win all the way. Perhaps it would be a good idea to show the team we appreciate their efforts and the improvement they have made over last year. Need we say more?
